step 1

create multiple data sets through random sampling with replacement over weighted data

step 2

build learners sequentially

step 3

combine all learners using a weighted-averaging strategy